Fund It Forward Receives Tax Exempt Status to Provide Medical and Adaptive Equipment to Special Needs Families

Norton, OH – September 2011

Fund It Forward is excited to announce that with the approval of our 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status we can now begin the process of providing adaptive and medical equipment to improve the quality of life for special needs families.

Fund It Forward is a non-profit organization founded by Rose Morris and Jackie Smolinski who each have special needs children of their own. "I have waged countless battles against insurance companies and medical professionals to provide my son with the assistance and care he deserves," says Jackie. Rose adds, "It is a constant battle to make sure my son can be as independent as possible." With that in mind, Rose and Jackie worked together to establish an organization that will ease this burden and help raise funds for medical equipment and devices that are not covered by insurance or may not be readily available to families who need them.

Fund It Forward will operate on a pay it forward model in which families must first be involved as volunteers and advocates of the organization. The goal is to build a network of volunteers who, like Rose and Jackie, want to see the special needs community receive the support they need to ease their minds and lessen their burden. These volunteers will help raise money for Fund It Forward and those funds will then be used to respond to the requests of families who apply for assistance through our organization. Fund it Forward also accepts donations directly from businesses and corporations and all donations are tax-deductible. With the commitment of dedicated fund-raising volunteers, along with our corporate sponsors, Fund It Forward plans to help improve the quality of life for special needs individuals and their families across the US.
